

Listing of known lactation rooms available to residents

Created of August, 2017: Please send any updates of this list to tmearid@emory.edu

Emory School of Medicine Building:

- 1st Floor, Room 180P

Email SOM.Space.Admin@emory.edu if lactation room is locked or for any other issues.

Emory University Hospital:

- 6T (Hospital Tower)
- 7T (Hospital Tower)
- 3rd floor periop (main building)
- 2nd floor main corridor (main building)

Emory University Hospital Midtown:

- There is a lactation room on the 3rd floor of the MOT on the Women's health floor. There is a fridge there for storing breast milk

Grady Memorial Hospital:

Lactation Room	Information*	Provided in Room
1 ED	Located inside the female locker room	Refrigeration/Storage; equipped with sink
2L 003	Business hours from 8am-4pm	Hospital grade pump; equipped with sink
4A 048		Hospital grade pump; equipped with sink
4A 016		Refrigeration/storage
5K 045		Hospital grade pump; equipped with sink
7D005A	Consult room is used for lactation
9C025	Call 404.616.8201 for access	Refrigeration/storage
Hurt Building	50 Hurt Plaza, 17 th Floor, Atlanta, GA 30303	Hospital grade pump, refrigeration/storage
7B 009A	(coming in 2018)
11B 009A	(coming in 2018)
Grady Lactation Program Coordinator: Kelly A. Webb, RN, IBCLC, RLC: 404-859-5035

Atlanta VAMC:

- There is a Lactation room in room 2A141 near the Observation Medical Intensive Care Unit (MICU) VA hospital on Clairmont Rd. This service comes with comfortable chairs, a sink, and electrical outlets. Mothers must bring their own pumping kits. If a resident is rotating at the Atlanta Clinic off Arcadia (former DeVry campus)there is also a lactation room in the Women's Wellness center there