

Team Science Award

To celebrate the Department of Medicine's (DOM) culture of collaboration by recognizing research teams that demonstrate innovative and impactful advances in science and high quality, productive teamwork.

Deadline: The deadline for all faculty awards nominations is June 24, 2024.

Eligibility: The Principal Investigator(s) must be a regular, full- or part-time Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor with a primary appointment in the DOM of Emory University who works with a team across multiple scientific fields/disciplines.

Nominations: The PI and team must be nominated by another full-time or part-time faculty member, Service Chief, or Division Director. A concise, one-page narrative describing the team's synergistic research work and its notable scientific and/or clinical impact. Each team member's contributions should be described as well as the integration of the contributions for the common goal. Nomination for this award does not preclude nomination for other DOM awards in the same year.

Submission:

- Narrative must address the following: (5,000-character limit)
  - team's synergistic research work
  - the notable scientific and/or clinical impact of the research
  - description of each team member's contribution and how they integrated to support the research
  - Optional: Innovation in teamwork (e.g., use of team-oriented collaborative tools, development of novel methods for team collaboration)
- Evidence of research work must be included: abstract, journal, poster, successful grant application abstract/aims page.
