

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

2019-2020 Emory University Department of Medicine Hidden Gem Award

Purpose: To honor all regular full-time or part-time faculty with a primary appointment in the Department of Medicine with outstanding and impactful contributions in any of our mission areas but whose significant but quiet contributions may escape external recognition. Each division director is asked to put forward one recipient for recognition.

Examples might include contributions in patient care, community or professional service, administration, education and research.

Deadline: The deadline for your nomination is Monday, June 8, 2020

Eligibility: All regular faculty (Instructors, Assistant Professors, Associate Professors and Professors) within the Department of Medicine of Emory University are eligible.

Nominations: A concise, one-page narrative (5000-character limit) describing the reason for your nomination is required. Please include the nominee's full name and division.

Award: The winner of this award will be announced during the "Celebration of Faculty Honors and Awards".

Nominations and questions should be submitted to Lauren Marshman
