

Outstanding Scientific Citation Awards

This award recognizes Department of Medicine scientists who have had outstanding basic, translational, and clinical (including quality improvement and health services) research publications, a basic award and a clinical / translational research award will be given in each of three faculty ranks:

- Instructor/Assistant Professor
- Associate Professor
- Professor

Deadline: The deadline for all faculty awards nominations is June 13th, 2022.

Eligibility: All regular, full- or part-time Instructors, Assistant Professors and Associate Professors with a primary appointment in the Department of Medicine of Emory University are eligible who have not received this award during the previous 3 years.

Nominations: Nominators must submit a peer-reviewed original research publication on which the nominee is the first or last author. The associated manuscript must have been published or accepted for publication between May 1, 2021 and May 1, 2022. Only one entry/publication per nominee will be accepted for review. For works involving multi-site clinical trials, the nominee must be first or corresponding author or have held a significant position on the development, steering, or writing committee. For both basic and clinical/translational research awards, a significant portion of data acquisition must have been performed at Emory. Nominations can be self-made or made by other eligible faculty. Nomination for this award does not preclude nomination for other DOM awards in the same year.

Submission:

- Narrative of significance of publication (include the role of the nominee on the study and a description of the work performed at Emory; 5000-character limit)
- Manuscript in PDF

Decision: Award nominations will be reviewed and winners determined by the Department of Medicine Strategic Advisory Research Team (StART). Manuscripts will be judged on impact and the more universal standards of adherence to scientific method, clarity of writing, quality of methods and statistics, and significance of results.

Award: The winner of this award will be announced during “Celebration of Faculty Honors and Awards”.
