

The Outstanding Clinician Award

To recognize Department of Medicine faculty who have demonstrated outstanding clinical and collaborative care for patients.

Deadline: The deadline for all faculty awards nominations is June 13th, 2022.

Eligibility: All regular, full-or part-time Assistant Professors, Associate Professors, and Professors with a primary appointment in the Department of Medicine of Emory University who spend the majority (>50%) of their duties engaged in direct patient care in outpatient or inpatient settings are eligible. Those who have received this award in the past 3 years are not eligible.

Nominations: Candidates must be nominated by another full-time or part-time faculty member, Medical Director, Clinical Service Chief, or Division Chief. Nomination for this award does not preclude nomination for other Department of Medicine awards in the same year.

Nominations should emphasize how the candidate has impacted the overall clinical care of patients throughout Emory Healthcare, and address one or more of the following attributes of the nominee:

- Outstanding quality of patient care
- Commitment to team-oriented delivery of patient care
- Excellent rapport with non-physician clinical staff
- Participation in quality improvement project(s)
- Accessibility and commitment to collaboration with other physicians
- Dedication to the continuing education of physician colleagues through lecture and informal discussion of medical cases

Submission: One-page nomination letter (5,000-character max) from a current faculty member

Decision: Award nominations will be reviewed, and winners determined by the Department of Medicine Faculty Development Committee.

Award: The winner of this award will be announced during “Celebration of Faculty Honors and Awards”.
