

COVID-19

and the Faculty Promotion Process

- Keep track of how COVID-related disruptions have impacted your career. You may address this in your Personal Statement, and your Chair may include it in their letter proposing promotion.

- Include in your dossier all scheduled activities that had to be canceled or postponed due to the pandemic. These may include conference invitations, lectureships, abstract presentations, grand rounds, visiting professorships, and the like. List activities within their assigned sections of the CV; e.g., Invitations to Conferences, Abstract Presentations, etc. Indicate the date each activity should have occurred and note that it was canceled/postponed because of COVID.

- Course evaluations for Spring 2020 are not required for your Teaching Portfolio. If included, they can only count for you and not against you.
