Who We Are

Welcome to the Center for Maternal Substance Abuse and Child Development (MSACD) resource guide for youth and young adults with developmental disabilities. The Center for MSACD is dedicated to the prevention of prenatal exposures and negative consequences of maternal substance use and/or abuse by providing a range of prevention services to agencies, communities, and families across the state of Georgia. The Center for MSACD offers clinical, prevention, and research programs. The Center for MSACD houses the Emory Neurodevelopmental Exposures Clinic (ENEC), a multidisciplinary clinic dedicated to providing evaluation and intervention services to individuals exposed to substances during pregnancy. When a child is exposed to alcohol, illegal drugs or prescription medications, the individual's physical and intellectual development may be affected.

Who We Serve

Emory's Neurodevelopmental Exposures Clinic (ENEC) serves children from birth through 21 years with a history of prenatal exposure to alcohol, drugs, and other substances. ENEC evaluates and treats problems related to development or developmental delay, behavior problems, educational issues or school problems, and transition to adulthood issues.

We accept all forms of Medicaid and some private insurance. Contact our Patient Care Coordinator for more information about specific insurance plans via email fasclinic@emory.edu or call 404-712-9810.

Services

Services through ENEC are provided by an interdisciplinary team that includes, pediatric and clinical psychologists, pediatric geneticist or developmental pediatrician, special educators, and psychiatry.

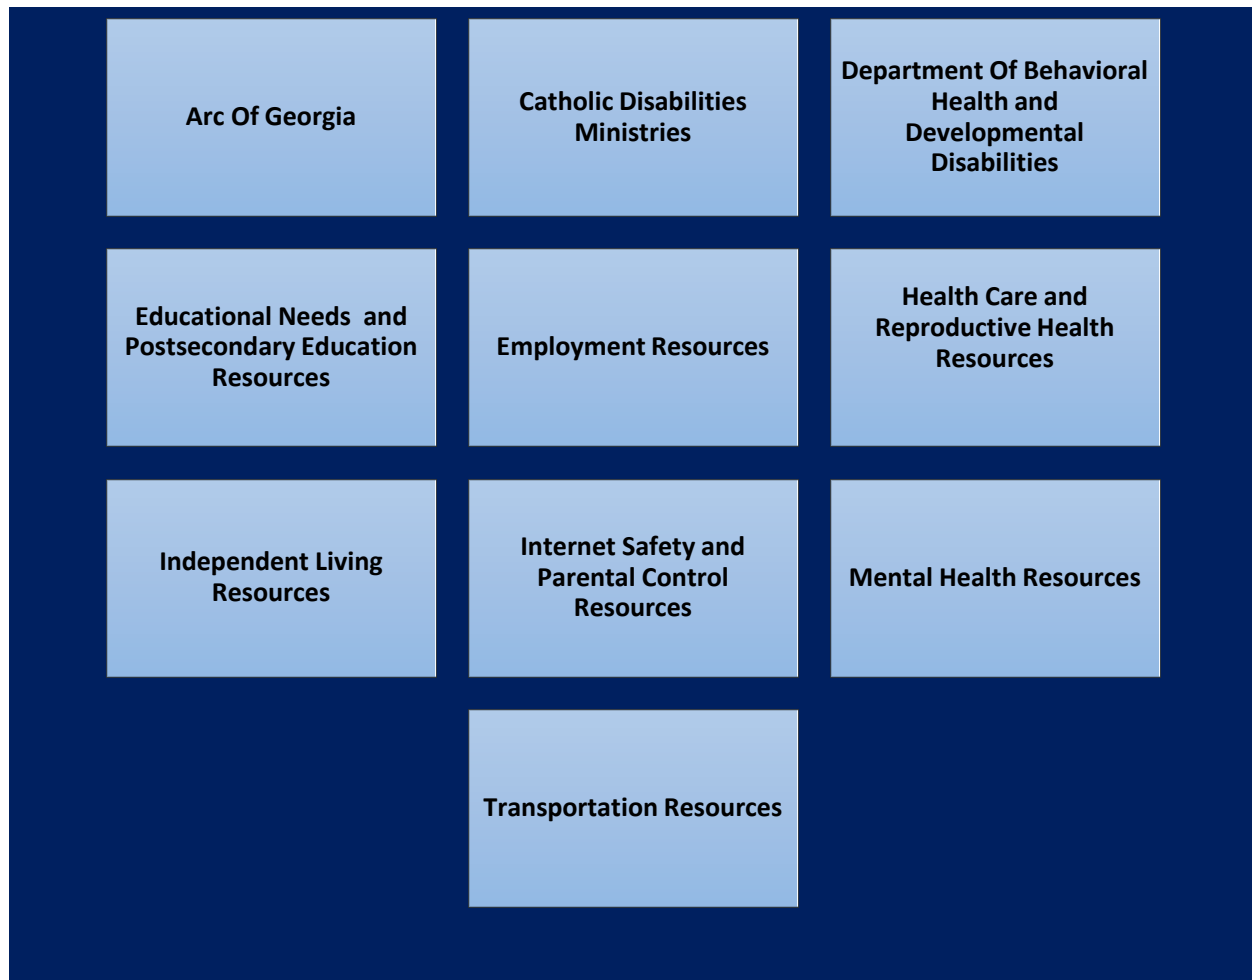

Neurodevelopmental and psychological testing includes:

- Medical and genetic evaluations
- Educational consultations and testing
- Psychotherapy
- Parent coaching and behavioral management
- Cognitive habilitation and interventions for learning
- Psychiatry consultations
- Parent workshops and training
- Therapy and interventions including parent coaching and behavior management
- Medications review and management

About the Resource Guide

The Center for Maternal Substance Abuse and Child Development (MSACD) resource guide for youth and young adults with developmental disabilities was developed to provide information, local and state resources to support parents, caregivers, their children and service providers in their work with youth and young adults with developmental disabilities associated with prenatal exposures.

The resources featured represent the work of local and state organizations committed to strengthening families and communities with youth and young adults with developmental disabilities. Resources include mental health referral services, education, employment, transportation residential support, health care, parental control and other concerns.

Services Provided:	The following services may be offered to eligible individuals based upon a professional determination of need and available community resources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Adult Occupational Therapy Services promote fine motor skill development, coordination and sensory integration, and facilitate the use of adaptive equipment or technology. • Adult Physical Therapy Services address participants' physical therapy needs resulting from developmental disabilities. These services promote gross and fine motor skills and facilitate independent functioning. • Adult Speech and Language Therapy Services address adult participants' speech and language therapy needs, preserving their speech communication capacity and function. • Behavioral Supports Consultation is the professional-level service that assists participants with significant, intensive and challenging behaviors that interfere with activities of daily living, social interaction, work or similar situations. • Community Access is designed to help participants acquire, retain or improve self-help, socialization and adaptive skills required for active participation and independent functioning outside the home. • Community Guide services are only for participants who opt for participant direction. These services help participants to define and direct their own services and supports and to meet the responsibilities of participant direction. • Community Living Support services are individually tailored supports that assist with the acquisition, retention or improvement of skills related to participants' continued residence in their family homes. • Community Residential Alternatives are available to individuals who require intense levels of residential support in small group settings of four or fewer or in host home/life-sharing arrangements. Services include a range of interventions that focus on training and support in one or more of the following areas: eating and drinking, toileting, personal grooming and health care, dressing, communication, interpersonal relationships, mobility, home management and use of leisure time. • Crisis Respite Homes exist in residential settings and provide short-term crisis services. Each home serves up to four individuals who are experiencing an emotional/behavioral change and/or distress that leads to a disruption of essential functions. Placement in Crisis Respite Homes occurs when individuals have not responded to less restrictive crisis interventions. • Environmental Accessibility Adaptation consists of physical adaptations to participants' (or family members') homes which are necessary to ensure the health, welfare and safety, or which enable individuals to function with greater independence in the home. • Financial Support Services are provided to assure that participant-directed funds outlined in Individual Service Plans are managed and distributed as intended.

- Group Homes are licensed homes that serve up to four individuals with developmental disabilities who require intense levels of residential support. Group Homes provide a range of interventions that focus on training and support in one or more of the following areas: eating and drinking, toileting, personal grooming and health care, dressing, communication, interpersonal relationships, mobility, home management and use of leisure time.
- Host Homes are private homes of individuals or families, whether owned or leased, in which life-sharing, residential supports are provided to one or two adults with developmental disabilities, who are not to be related to the occupant owner or lessee by blood or marriage. The homeowners or lessees may not be employed by the provider agency that subcontracts for the host home services.
- Individual Directed Goods and Services that are not otherwise be provided through the NOW or Medicaid State Plan may be identified by individuals, support coordinators and interdisciplinary teams, and include services, equipment and supplies.
- Individual Support Plan is the range of services an individual receives based on professional determination of need.
- Mobile Crisis Services dispatch Mobile Crisis Teams (MCTs) to crisis locations for individuals with developmental disabilities. MCT members are responsible for completing comprehensive assessments of each crisis situation and mitigating risks to health and safety of individuals in crisis and/or others. MCTs also make referrals to intensive crisis services or hospital emergency rooms if necessary.
- Natural Support Training exists for individuals who provide unpaid support, training, companionship or supervision to participants.
- Prevocational Services prepare participants for paid or unpaid employment and include teaching concepts such as compliance, attendance, task completion, problem solving and safety.
- Respite Services provide brief periods of support or relief for individuals with disabilities or their caregivers and include maintenance respite for planned or scheduled relief or emergency/crisis respite for a brief period of support for participants experiencing crisis (usually behavioral) or in instances of family emergency.
- Specialized Medical Equipment consists of devices, controls or appliances specified in the Individual Service Plan, which enable participants to increase their abilities to perform activities of daily living and to interact more independently with their environment.
- Specialized Medical Supplies consist of food supplements, special clothing, diapers, bed wetting protective sheets and other authorized supplies specified in the Individual Service Plan.
- Support Coordination is a set of interrelated activities that identify, coordinate and review the delivery of appropriate services with the objective of protecting the health and safety of participants while ensuring access to services.
- Supported Employment enables participants, for whom competitive employment at or above the minimum wage is unlikely absent the provision of supports, to work in a regular work setting.
- Transportation services enable participants to gain access to waiver and other

	community services, activities, resources, and organizations typically utilized by the general population. These services do not include transportation available through Medicaid non-emergency transportation or as an element of another waiver service. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Vehicle Adaptation includes adaptations to participants' (or family members') vehicles approved in the Individual Service Plan, such as hydraulic lifts, ramps, special seats and other modifications to allow for access into and out of the vehicle as well as safety while moving.

The curriculum and training promote acquisition of the skills necessary for students to obtain rewarding employment and to live productive lives. Along with taking credit courses, students have the opportunity to participate in human resource development workshops and opportunities to socially integrate in the community. LEAP students have access to the full college experience. Students in the program have the opportunity to participate in college activities, clubs, and organizations that are available to all Albany Technical College students.

Requirements for admission to this program:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Regular high school diploma • Other diploma (e.g., IEP diploma, certificate of attendance)
Services Provided:	The Guidance and Opportunities for Academic and Leadership Success (GOALS) Program at Columbus State University (CSU) is a two-year certificate program that provides an exciting and high quality university experience for individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The GOALS Program at CSU represents an inclusive, university-based program built upon the four principles of personal advocacy, career development, health education, and civic engagement. Students complete 36 credit hours of inclusive and program-specific courses, along with work-related internships designed to support the academic, social, and career development of students. Typical applicants are those who received special education services for a developmental disability (i.e., intellectual disability) through most of their K-12 schooling. Using a person-centered planning process, GOALS provides students the opportunity to work toward their personal post-secondary goals as a foundation for active, lifelong career and community participation.

	Sexuality Education for Youth & Adults with Cognitive or Developmental Disabilities

Curriculums focusing focus on healthy sexuality for populations with developmental or cognitive disabilities:

Personal SPACE(link http://www.ncdsv.org/images/Arc_PersonalSpace-)

Created by the Arc of Maryland - The lesson on sexuality goes over private and public body parts, touching, and expression. This entire curriculum can be downloaded for free. AViolencePreventionProgramForWomen.pdf

FLASH - Special Education (link is external) created by King County Public Health. There are specific lessons on communication and understanding the body that may be useful. Parts of the curriculum are available online. <http://www.kingcounty.gov/healthservices/health/personal/famplan/educators/SpecialEducation.aspx>

Also available in the WCSAP Library <http://www.wcsap.org/lending-library>

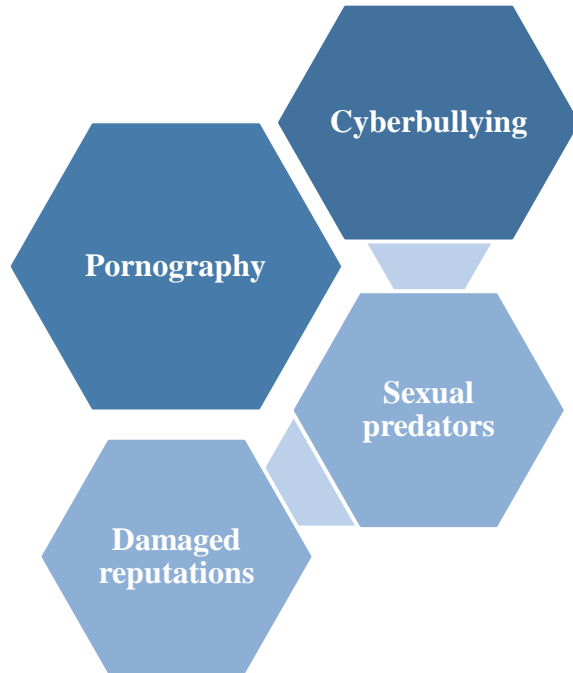

Sexuality Education for Adults with Developmental Disabilities(link is external) created by Planned Parenthood of New England. The Table of Contents and a sample lesson plan can be previewed online. <https://www.plannedparenthood.org/planned-parenthood-northern-new-england/local-education-training/development-disabilites-sexuality>

Additionally, the WCSAP Library <http://www.wcsap.org/lending-library> has a recorded webinar series called "Healthy Sexpectations" that are geared for prevention educators. These are available on DVD discs. They could be useful resources while developing and implementing sessions with youth or adults. The three webinars are:

- Innovative Tools for Teaching Sexuality Education to Youth With Developmental Disabilities
- Making the Case for Sexuality Education for Youth with Developmental Disabilities
- Sexuality Education for Youth with Asperger's Syndrome
