

The Council on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion of the Emory University Department of Medicine invites medical students from groups underrepresented in medicine, including but not limited to underrepresented minorities and individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds to apply for our Emory University Department of Medicine #DOMDEI Visiting Clerkship Program. This clerkship, which specifically targets students who intend to apply to and pursue a career in Internal Medicine (or an IM subspecialty), exposes students to a thriving academic medical center and careers in Medicine. Accepted students will receive:

- A faculty mentor
- A resident mentor
- Integration into educational activities at Emory in the Department of Medicine
- Exposure to clinical sites at Emory
- An opportunity to interview at the J. Willis Hurst Internal Medicine Residency
- A stipend in the amount of $1,000 will be given upon successful completion of the clerkship.

Application requirements:

- Completion of attached application
- A letter of recommendation
- Current CV or resume
- Official USMLE or COMLEX transcript
- Official medical school transcript
- Completion of Emory's clerkship application prior to beginning the clerkship
