The Physician Assistant Program, Department of Family and Preventive Medicine Emory University School of Medicine presents the 29th Annual CME review conference for physician assistants and students preparing for the PA National Certifying Examination (PANCE) or the Recertifying Examination (PANRE). This is a 38 hour, four day comprehensive review conference.

OBJECTIVES

The Review Conference consists of lectures to refresh the learner's knowledge on a wide range of core medical content including reviews of Cardiology, Pulmonary, GI, Orthopedics -Rheumatology, ENT, Neurology, Dermatology, Renal, Psychiatry, Ophthalmology, Emergency Medicine, Urology, Endocrinology, Infectious Disease, OB-GYN, Hematology, and other topics. To benefit from this conference participants should have a broad base of primary care knowledge to assist them in passing the national board examinations. This conference includes 10 hours of pharmacology instruction.

The Review Conference is based on the new 2019 PANCE/PANRE and reflects the weight of organ system on the exam. Obviously, the exact content of the PANCE and PANRE exams is not known to the developers of the Review Conference. No suggestion is made that the Review Conference or practice exam questions represent the level of complexity or distribution of topics on the actual examinations.

At the conclusion of this conference, the participant should be able to:

- Plan an organized approach to prepare for the PANCE or PANRE;
- Identify primary care topics that are commonly tested on the PANCE or PANRE;
- Apply knowledge of risk factors, prevention and clinical manifestations to arrive at a diagnosis/prognosis to create a management plan for clinical conditions.
- Utilize audio, video, paper and on-line study materials.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This conference is designed for all physician assistants and students preparing for the PA Board Certification/Recertification Examination. This conference also serves as an excellent overview for Nurse Practitioners and others interested in refreshing their knowledge in primary care medicine.
