

Daily Overview (March 30, 2020)

We continue with work to improve our internal processes and planning for the upcoming weeks.

Safety:

- EHC is in the process of re-evaluating and revising PPE guidelines.
- The department is evaluating air flow and HEPA filters for procedural suites across sites.
- Note that the Federal Social Distancing Guidelines have been extended through April 30.

Methods:

- We continue revising our approach to scheduling and rescheduling outpatient imaging.

Equipment:

- The first shipment of Emory radiologist home interpretation workstations has been deployed and the second shipment has arrived and is being readied for deployment.
- Grady and CHOA radiologist home interpretation workstation deployment continues.

Supplies:

- Additional sources of PPE continue to be explored and additional shipments are arriving for use.

Staffing:

- A survey to catalog clinical skill sets for clinical faculty, fellows, and residents has been sent out and most responses have been received.
- Planning is underway to prepare for surge conditions if the need arises.

A very special "Thank You!" to our Doctors as we celebrate National Doctor's Day today.

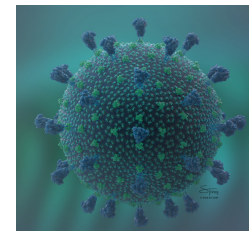

A Tip From Your Wellness Committee:

Emory Center for Compassion holds a daily online compassion practice and fellowship. Led by Emory-Certified CBCT Teachers. M-F at 7 pm, Sa-Sun at 7 pm. Soon to be twice daily.
